DUSTBOWL REVIVAL RELEASES JOVIAL VIDEO FOR SOULFUL NEW TRACK “BEST DAY” VIEW HERE

FOUR SONG EP SET ME FREE RELEASED TODAY ON ANTIFRAGILE MUSIC

Nashville, TN – Acclaimed band Dustbowl Revival released a video for their soul-pop infused new track “Best Day” off their new EP Set Me Free, out today via Antifragile Music (Listen Here).

Just in time for Halloween, the cheeky video for “Best Day” is a fun-loving depiction of the song’s narrative featuring members of Dustbowl Revival donning superhero costumes, a 1966 pink Ford Mustang convertible, scenes from a 99-cent store, a traumatic head wound and, of course, adorable happy children (filmed at bandleader Z. Lupetin’s daughter’s day care). The band had a great time shooting around Z’s Los Angeles neighborhood, and it shows throughout the clip. View “Best Day” HERE.

“Best Day” was inspired by a scary incident in which Z’s wife fainted in a parking lot while six months pregnant. Fortunately, she was uninjured and the event got Z’s silver-lining, storyteller wheels turning with a fresh take on the occurrence. The resulting song became a lighthearted and buoyant duet between Z and vocalist Lashon Halley about a man who hit his head, woke up with amnesia and fell in love with the first person who found him. However, the feelings are not mutual as the woman is only trying get the man to the hospital, and the good deed has really thrown a wrench in her day.

The digital-only Set Me Free EP includes “Best Day” and the recently released tracks “Be (For July),” “Lying To Myself,” and the title track. Click HERE to stream Set Me Free at your preferred DSPs or HERE to stream “Best Day.”
