Nashville, TN – Austin, Texas-based quintet Shane Smith & The Saints has released their long-awaited new single, “Hummingbird.” The song is the first new music from the beloved band in four years, and not a moment too soon for their legions of fervent fans.

Featuring Smith’s thoughtful lyrics and soulful, impassioned vocals, “Hummingbird” is a hauntingly beautiful track that balances melody with intensity. “This song, for me personally, takes a step back in time to some of the older, classic music I grew up listening to, anytime I was riding around with my dad,” says Smith. “It’s a love song at its core, but it covers some heavier subject matter around anxiety and depression that I think a lot of folks can relate to these days. My hope is that it can have some kind of positive impact on any listeners dealing with those issues.” Listen to “Hummingbird” HERE.

Shane Smith & The Saints have made a name for themselves as road warriors, playing over 100 shows annually to capacity crowds. Their sound blends key elements of Texas country, Americana and Southern rock with soaring four-part harmonies. Their incredible live performances feel more like a communal gathering than a regular concert. With three albums under their belt since 2013, the group takes their time to create and release music, never rushing to put something out that they are not truly proud of. Shane Smith & The Saints have built themselves a solid foundation and they have done it all on their own terms.

Shane Smith & The Saints are Shane Smith (vocals/guitar), Bennett Brown (fiddle), Dustin Schaefer (lead guitar), Chase Satterwhite (bass), and Zach Stover (drums).
